

FORGIVENESS

After years of battling with our body image, we must learn to forgive negative feelings.

Acknowledge them and realize they don't have to identify us.

Let them go.

Replace them with positive images: not of what we wish we could be,
but of where we are right now-this moment.
Know that it's absolutely okay to be who we are.

"Feeling beautiful has nothing to do with what you look like."

~ Emma Stone

and I said to my body softly
I want to be your friend
It took a long breath
and replied
I've been waiting my whole life for this
